TRAVERTINE

TRAVERTINE IS AN ESPECIALLY ATTRACTIVE FORM OF LIMESTONE. IT'S FIBROUS, MARBLE-LIKE TEXTURE AND ATTRACTIVE EARTH-TONE COLOURS MAKE IT ONE OF THE MOST POPULAR STONES USED FOR BUILDING MATERIALS. THEY ARE USUALLY FORMED AT MINERAL SPRING DEPOSITS. IT IS A VERY DURABLE STONE, AND WHILE IT IS EASIER TO CARE FOR THAN SOME TYPES OF NATURAL STONES, TRAVERTINE IS VERY HEAVY. OUR PRODUCTS OF THE TRAVERTINE STONES ARE MAINLY FOCUSED ON WALL CLADDING WHERE WE MANUFACTURE DIFFERENT PATTERNS IN MOSAICS AND PANELS IN DIFFERENT SHAPES AND SIZES TO MAKE YOUR WALLS LOOK MORE ATTRACTIVE AND GIVE IT AN ELEGANT LOOK.

WE ALSO MANUFACTURE PLANKS AND SLABS IN DIFFERENT SIZES WHICH CAN BE USED FOR FLOORING WHERE WE SEAL THE SURFACE TO GIVE IT A SMOOTH AND FLAT SURFACE. APART FROM THIS PLANKS AND SLABS CAN ALSO BE USED ON WALLS WITH ITS NATURAL TEXTURE.

TRAVERTINE USAGE

INTERIOR FLOORS - ONCE SEALED, TRAVERTINES CAN BE USED FOR INTERIOR FLOORINGS. HIGHLY SUITABLE AS FLOOR COVER, THE NATURAL COLOURS OF TRAVERTINE GIVE CONTINUITY TO A SPACE AND TRANSMIT A FEELING OF PROFOUND SERENITY. ITS CHROMATIC NEUTRALITY ALLOWS FOR COMBINATIONS WITH OTHER NOBLE MATERIALS IN FURNITURE AND WALLS.

EXTERIOR FLOORS - TRAVERTINES COME FROM LIMESTONE ROCK, WIDELY VALUED IN HUNDREDS OF APPLICATIONS. THIS MEANS THAT ANY PROJECT CAN BECOME A REALITY THROUGH THE USE OF TRAVERTINES OF THE HIGHEST QUALITY. FOR EXTERIOR FLOORING, ONE CAN GO FOR A HONED NATURAL OR A SMOOTH AND SEALED FINISH.

FACTS ABOUT NATURAL STONE AND MOSAICS

The use of natural stone in construction was first seen in Egypt around 5000 years ago. After monsoon rains left the Sahara Desert, the landscape gradually changed - resulting in desiccation. This urged people to move towards the Nile River valleys. This is where the Aswan quarries were discovered. Limestone and red and black granite were extracted from the quarries to build structures like obelisks and sarcophagi which lead to the construction of pyramids we see today.

It Has Been Used in Most Ancient Monuments - Everything from the Colosseum of Rome to the Great Pyramids of Giza, the Temple of Artemis, the Taj Mahal and many more ancient monuments. World wonders and heritage sites were constructed using different types of natural stone; and because of this, it comes as no surprise to find that most of them are still standing today! Thanks to the high durability and longevity of natural stone materials, we are able to take a glimpse into the past and understand more about the ways in which previous civilisations lived.

Travertine is a popular choice of material for numerous applications around the home; especially in the bathroom, since it comes in either a rough or polished surface. Travertine is a form of limestone, so they are formed in a similar way, however travertine is commonly formed in areas where hot springs are located. It is also a much more porous stone than limestone but is usually darker in colour than the latter.

If you and your family suffer from allergies, then you can use that as an excuse to install marble into your home. Apart from offering a ravishing look and increasing the value of your home, marble also resists dust collection and has a low-porous finish. It is also incredibly easy to clean, so it is perfect for homeowners everywhere.

The oldest mosaic art has been traced back to a Mesopotamian temple that existed during the third millennium B.C. This art was made with stones, seashells, and ivory. Ancient Greek artists used small pebbles to make their mosaics. Greeks were also instrumental in developing mosaic art into complex patterns.

Mosaic is considered one of the oldest forms of art, where several cultures are contained. Much information about the cultures of ancient countries was found in mosaics.
